Introduction

This Regional Task Force on the Homeless (RTFH) report describes over 200 programs with both services and beds available to homeless persons in San Diego County. It provides an overview of how these programs are distributed, how each program can be contacted and how they fit into the “Continuum of Care”. The Continuum of Care is a countywide homeless housing and service delivery system developed by local homeless service providers. The report can be used as a resource by local policy makers, administrators, planners, community agencies and groups, grant writers, and individuals.

The report will focus on agencies that provide “Homeless Specific” beds and services. Agencies’ beds will be counted as “Year-Round” homeless beds or “Seasonal” homeless beds.

“Homeless specific” beds and services are those where the primary occupancy or availability criterion is homelessness. “Year-Round” beds and services are, as the name states, available all year. “Seasonal” homeless beds and services are generally available only during the winter months.

All “homeless specific” beds and services may also have secondary and tertiary occupancy or availability criteria. The additional criteria may focus on Target Population, Special Needs Issues, or multiple combinations of these groups. The Special Needs category “Chronic Homeless” refers to an unaccompanied homeless individual with a disabling condition who has either been continuously homeless for a year or more OR has had at least four (4) episodes of homelessness in the past three (3) years. The HIV/AIDS and Substance abuse treatment special need refers to individuals that suffer from both conditions simultaneously. The SMI and Substance abuse treatment special need also refers to individuals that suffer from both conditions simultaneously. The Veteran and Substance abuse treatment special need refers to veterans that also have substance abuse issues. All other Special needs sub-populations are represented clearly by their names. Specific Target populations used in this report are: Adult Men; Adult Women; Adult Men and/or Women; Families with Children; Women with Children; Youth on Their Own; Mixed Population-Adult Women, Women with Children; Mixed Population-All; Mixed Population-Families with Children, Disabled Adults; Mixed Population-Families with Children, Seniors, Disabled; and Mixed Population-Young Adults, Both Singles and Families with Children. The “Mixed Population” groups mean that agencies serve anyone in that group or in any combination of persons from those groups. i.e. an agency that serves “Mixed Population-Families with Children, Seniors, Disabled” may have 5 Families and 7 Seniors and 3 Disabled persons in their program beds at any given point in time, generally these beds change over based on need.

Some of the other beds and services that are not “Homeless Specific” may not be included in this report. These beds and services may be provided to homeless individuals when they are available. However, since the primary focus is not homelessness, they are not reserved for homeless individuals. These beds and services primarily focus on a specific Target Population or Special Needs group such as persons with HIV/AIDS, mental health, or substance abuse issues. Most of these beds and services are provided in residential treatment facilities. Agencies that provide homeless beds and services, even if they are not “homeless specific” and not counted in the total will be listed in the reference section. This is because, even though they are not reserved for the homeless, they can still be offered to the homeless when they become available.

SUMMARY

Section One summarizes the Year-Round beds and types of programs available to homeless persons in San Diego County, with charts and tables, by geography, shelter type, target population, and special client needs.

Section Two provides a listing of homeless programs and services. It includes type; agency and program name; target population; special client needs; total beds and the location of the program.

Section Three provides detailed information for each program offering homeless services. Programs are listed alphabetically by their sponsoring agency.

This Profile covers programs in operation as of October 2006. Programs funded but not started until later are omitted.

DEFINITIONS

The categories of programs and homeless populations used to present this information match many used by public agencies in the planning, funding, and evaluation of homeless facilities. They are used by local jurisdictions in the writing of HUD-required Consolidated Plans. They also appear in other RTFH documents, such as the annual report on the “Distribution of Public Funds for Homelessness” and the “Regional Homeless Profile.”

Definitions of shelter and service categories used in this report are as follows:

- Affordable Housing programs offer alternative forms of housing to assist extremely low to low income individuals and families.
- Case Management Agencies offer case management services and some emergency and supportive services to assist clients in developing a plan for achieving independent living. Many serve non-homeless persons as well.
- Day Centers provide daytime support services in a safe environment. Some of the day shelters are for persons with severe mental illness or recovering from substance abuse.
- Detox Clinics provide individuals with emergency health services related to overcoming substance abuse issues.
- Emergency Shelters offer temporary overnight sleeping accommodations, for one to three months. Case management is sometimes available to clients.
- Health Service programs are clinics that are designed to meet the outpatient medical needs of homeless persons.
- Permanent Supportive Housing offers housing for persons with disabilities who need supportive services to maintain their living accommodations. Targeted disabilities are serious mental illness, chronic alcohol/or other drug abuse, and AIDS or related diseases. Persons with a severe chronic developmental disability may also be included. The Shelter Plus Program provides permanent supportive housing through collaboration with City of San Diego service providers and the San Diego Housing Commission and Countywide service providers and the County of San Diego (see page 4 for a description of this program).

- Supportive Services assist with issues that have either led to homelessness or are obstacles in overcoming homelessness. These services include: food; clothing; transportation assistance; mental health; substance abuse recovery; life skills training; domestic violence issues; job assistance; child care; access to public entitlements; and housing counseling/placement. Agencies that provide supportive services may or may not also provide case management services.
- Transitional Shelters offer housing, case management, and supportive services to return people to independent living as soon as possible, often within 6 months, and usually not longer than 24 months.

Supplemental Homeless Programs

All Year-Round bed spaces at known public facilities serving homeless persons are included in this profile. However, some shelter options may not be included because they are supplemental to the Year-Round programs. These options may include the following programs: the FEMA-Emergency Food and Shelter Program, Winter Shelter Programs, and portions of the Shelter Plus Care Programs.

1. FEMA-Emergency Food and Shelter Program (EFSP)

The number of beds available through the FEMA-Emergency Food and Shelter Program (EFSP) Motel Vouchering Program are not listed, since they cannot be quantified for this report. This program tracks numbers of vouchers provided, not numbers of beds available.

The FEMA-Emergency Food and Shelter Program (EFSP), provides funds for participating homeless agencies to supplement their shelter and meal programs, especially during the winter. Funds are also used to rent motel rooms for personal emergencies, usually involving homeless families, the disabled or the elderly.

2. Emergency Shelter-Seasonal (Winter Shelter Programs)

These programs provide winter shelter in order to accommodate the higher demand for shelter during the colder months. The winter shelter programs generally include temporary emergency shelter and motel voucher programs. Together, Winter Shelter programs add up to more than 500 beds to the region's year-round inventory of beds.

The City of San Diego Winter Shelter Program includes multiple shelter sites. Two of these sites are temporary "Sprung Structures," one in Centre City East and the other in the Midway area. The Centre City East site, at 16th and Newton, shelters up to 200 single adults. The Midway site, located near Midway Drive, accommodates up to 150 single veterans (mostly men). The family shelter is generally operated in a local service provider's extra available space or through the voucher program and can usually accommodate up to 50 family members.

Escondido's winter shelter program in the past has been operated by Interfaith Community Services and in the past has been funded by the City of Escondido and the City of San Marcos. This year presents a location problem, as the locations used in prior years are no longer available. As of the printing of this profile, no sites have been approved.

All of the winter shelter beds mentioned above, although not permanent, are generally made available each winter and are therefore noted in the report but are not added to the total year-round bed count.

Guests at some of the winter shelter sites receive health care and mental health services through special outreach from the County of San Diego's Health and Human Services Agency or through local service agencies.

The County Cold Weather Shelter Voucher Program shelters families, disabled and elderly persons in participating motels throughout the County. The County of San Diego sponsors this program, which provides motel vouchers, case management, and outreach through local service agencies. Beds for this program are not listed in this report. This program tracks numbers of vouchers provided, not numbers of beds available.

3. Shelter Plus Care (S+C)

The Shelter Plus Care (S+C) program provides rental assistance and supportive services for hard-to-serve homeless persons with disabilities. Assistance is primarily for homeless persons who are severely mentally ill, have chronic problems with alcohol, drugs, or both, or who are living with AIDS or related diseases. The majority of the Shelter Plus Care (S+C) beds are included in this report. However, some rental assistance is provided to individuals in private-market apartments. Accurate bed numbers for these individuals are difficult to attain and therefore not included in this report. There are two Permanent Shelter Plus Care programs in this region. The San Diego Housing Commission sponsors one program, and the County Department of Housing and Community Development sponsors the other. The San Diego Housing Commission sponsors programs within the City of San Diego. The County Department of Housing and Community Development sponsors programs in the remaining jurisdictions in San Diego County.

4. Other

The City of San Diego also operates 123 Farm Worker beds in 36 units in San Pasqual.

The Interfaith Shelter Network works with participating faith congregations to provide warm meals and overnight accommodations to single adults and family members. Located in "branches" in every region of the County, this program shelters people from late fall through early spring. These bed numbers are not included in the Year-Round bed total.

The City of San Diego-Winter Shelter Program is financed by the City of San Diego, the San Diego Port District, the San Diego Housing Commission, and the Centre City Development Corporation.

Escondido's winter shelter program in the past has been located in the Escondido Armory. This site can accommodate up to 100 persons each evening. The program is operated by Interfaith Community Services and in the past has been funded by the City of Escondido and the City of San Marcos.

All of the winter shelter beds mentioned above, although not permanent, are generally made available each winter and are therefore noted in the report but are not added to the total year-round bed count.

Guests at some of the winter shelter sites receive health care and mental health services through special outreach from the County of San Diego's Health and Human Services Agency or through local service agencies.

2. Winter Shelter Programs (Continued)

The County Cold Weather Shelter Voucher Program shelters families, disabled and elderly persons in participating motels throughout the County.

The County of San Diego sponsors this program which provides motel vouchers, case management, and outreach through local service agencies. The program has been operated through a contract with Catholic Charities. Funding for the 02/03 winter season was provided by the County Health and Human Services Agency, the City of San Diego, and the cities of Carlsbad, Chula Vista, El Cajon, La Mesa, National City, Oceanside, and Santee. The County Department of Housing and Community Development provides additional funding on behalf of the participating urban cities: Coronado, Del Mar, Imperial Beach, Lemon Grove, Poway, San Marcos, and Solana Beach.

Beds for this program are not listed in this report. This program tracks numbers of vouchers provided, not numbers of beds available.

Catholic Charities' Rachel's Cold Weather Program in San Diego provides additional space for adult women in their permanent facility during cold nights. Showers, laundry, and evening meals are available.

3. Shelter Plus Care (S+C)

The Shelter Plus Care (S+C) program provides rental assistance and supportive services for hard-to-serve homeless persons with disabilities. Assistance is primarily for homeless persons who are severely mentally ill, have chronic problems with alcohol, drugs, or both, or who are living with AIDS or related diseases.

The majority of the Shelter Plus Care (S+C) beds are included in this report. However, some rental assistance is provided to individuals in private-market apartments. Accurate bed numbers for these individuals are difficult to attain and therefore not included in this report.

Section Three

Alphabetical Directory of Homeless Facilities and Services

This section features individual descriptions of all facilities and programs.

Each listing includes:

- Agency name
- Program name, if different
- Region of the County where program is located
- Program type (case management agency, transitional shelter, etc.)
- Client population
- Special needs of client population
- Capacity*
- On-site services that are available
- Requirements/restrictions
- Contact person, address, phone and fax number

*Capacity numbers provided in this section are for beds that are either reserved for, or generally occupied by homeless persons. This may or may not be the total number of beds in the facility as some beds may be used for non-homeless who fit other special needs criteria. For homeless specific bed numbers see sections one and two. If a shelter or housing program does not list any beds then that facility does not require a person to be homeless. They therefore do not specifically designate any “homeless” beds even though at times they may serve homeless people.
