

Children Tested (Screened) for Lead in San Diego County, Less than 6 Years of Age, 2008

	Number of Children Screened 2008	Children with EBLLs 2008	% of State Total 2008	Prevalence 2008	Number of Children Screened 2007	Children with EBLLs 2007	% of State Total 2007
San Diego County	41,598	239	9.14%	0.57%	35,409	246	7.58%
California	642,888	2,615	100.0%	0.41%	575,877	3,245	100%

San Diego County ranks second among California counties for having the highest number of screened children with an elevated blood lead level (EBLL)

EBLL = elevated blood lead level, greater than or equal to 9.5 ug/dL Venous, capillary or unknown draw type are included.

Prevalence = number of unique children with EBLLs tested in 2008 / total number of unique children tested for lead in 2008

Source: California CLPPB, February 2009. This data is preliminary and subject to change as additional information becomes available.

Children Tested (Screened) for Lead in San Diego County, Less than 21 Years of Age, 2008

	Number of Children Screened 2008	Children with EBLLs 2008	% of State Total 2008	Prevalence 2008	Number of Children Screened 2007	Children with EBLLs 2007	% of State Total 2007
San Diego County	43,999	261	8.5%	0.59%	37,664	268	7.1%
California	704,862	3,067	100.0%	0.44%	629,869	3,764	100.0%

San Diego County ranks second among California counties for having the highest number of screened children with an elevated blood lead level (EBLL)

EBLL = elevated blood lead level, greater than or equal to 9.5 ug/dL Venous, capillary or unknown draw type are included.

Prevalence = number of unique children with EBLLs tested in 2008 / total number of unique children tested for lead in 2008

Source: California CLPPB, February 2009. This data is preliminary and subject to change as additional information becomes available.